FINAL THOUGHTS

Reflecting on the overall outcome of this application.

OUR APPLICATION

GentleParent+ reimagines child discipline, prioritizing positive behavior through communication and understanding between parents and children, while emphasizing cooperation and respect.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Despite growing awareness of its negative effects, many parents still rely on physical discipline, such as hitting to control their children's behavior. This outdated approach undermines children's emotional well-being, perpetuates violence, and hinders healthy parent-child relationships.

Urgent action is needed to shift societal norms towards non-violent parenting strategies rooted in empathy and positive reinforcement.

FUTURE ENHANCEMENTS

As we continue to develop this project, advancements to be held in the future are:

- Further In-Depth Chatbot: leads to more inclusiveness for different domestic scenarios
- Flashier UI: giving the user more eye-candy increases probability of app usage
- User Database: saving user data in order to track progress on parental skills and distribute rewards based on results accrued over time
- Language Options: Increases inclusiveness across national lines
- User Accessibility Options: gives the user options to make the app easier to utilize

FINAL THOUGHTS

We believe that this app would be very useful as many parents nowadays do not have the time or means to attend traditional parenting programs or therapy. They may easily have access to advice and assistance at their fingertips, anytime they need it, with the use of an app. Since each child is different, what suits one may not suit another. Based on user input, an app can deliver customized counsel suited to the unique requirements and personalities of the parent and the kid.
